HARKERS ISLAND

Stay on US Highway 70 (East 10 miles past Beaufort, N.C.. West 20 miles past Atlantic, N.C.) to Harkers Island Turn Off. The Island is 8 miles South on good paved road.

HARKERS ISLAND is in the south central part of Carteret County, 8 miles from Highway 70, and is the closest point you can drive a car to Cape Lookout. The boating and fishing in the Harkers Island and Cape Lookout area is a Mecca for sport fishermen, and is famous the State over for the large catches of blue fish and king mackerel, as well as for the large catches pulled in by the party boats based at Harkers Island. At Harkers Island you may rent skiffs or party boats to take you sound or inland fishing, or out to the ocean or the waters of the warm Gulf Stream where the large tropical fish can be caught. There are plenty of boat ramps on the island, or boats can be rented to take you over to the sandy beaches if you want to swim, relax in the sun, or gather sea shells. A Passenger Ferry makes round trips to Cape Lookout during the summer and most of the spring and fall months. Trailers and trailer spaces as well as camping areas are available on the east end of the island. Lots can be purchased on the island for summer or retirement homes.

BEACHES: Core Banks and Shackleford Banks a few boat miles away offer wide, white sandy beaches, ideal for sun bathing, gathering shells, swimming, surf fishing and playing. In most areas the water is shallow near the shore permitting bathers to enjoy the breakers without getting into water over their heads. In one large area there is deep water, permitting boats and yachts to park a few feet from the beach for days without becoming grounded.
